Decision

1. The Complainant Mrs Manasi Usha Das is present with her advocate Sri N.K Barik. The PIO-Opposite Party is also present Heard both sides in detail.
2. The learned counsel for the Complainant submits not to have received the information from the Opposite Party. The PIO-Opposite Party disputes the said submission of the counsel by stating that he has sent all the information to the Complainant by post only day before yesterday. From the official record produced by the PIO-Opposite Party his above submission gains momentum. The delay of 2(two) days noticed has been explained by the Opposite Party on the ground that due to the sad demise of Nandini Satapathy, holiday was declared by the Government. The said explanation is accepted.
3. However, to avoid any possible delay in postal delivery the PIO-Opposite Party is directed to furnish all the information to the Complainant in person duly authenticating the same as true copies thereof. The PIO- Opposite Party soon complied the direction and obtained receipt from the Complainant. Both parties submit compliance reports which are kept in record.
4. In view of the above, the Case of the Complainant is allowed.
